

VIDEO-LESSON

Title

Energy demand: what energy sources and how much of them does the world consume?

Expert

Dr John M. Reilly

Abstract

The lesson aims to clarify the differences in energy uses among countries and how energy use across countries has changed over time. Dr Reilly examines some relevant drivers and reviews key concepts, such as primary, secondary and final energy. The lesson also provides an overview on the diversity of energy demand in the world in terms of consumption (at country level) with regard to different sectors.
