

WEB SEMINAR ENERGY

RICHARD SCHMALENSEE

Howard W. Johnson Professor of Management, Emeritus Professor of Economics, Emeritus Dean Emeritus

Richard Schmalensee is the Howard W. Johnson Professor of Economics and Management, Emeritus at Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and served as the John C Head III Dean of the MIT Sloan School of Management from 1998 through 2007. He was as a Member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers from 1989 through 1991 and served for 12 years as Director of the MIT Center for Energy and Environmental Policy Research.

His research has centered on industrial organization economics and its application to managerial and public policy issues, with particular emphasis on antitrust, regulatory, energy, and environmental policies.

He is a Fellow of the Econometric Society and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He has served as a member of the National Commission on Energy Policy and of the Executive Committee of the American Economic Association and as a director of the International Securities Exchange and other corporations. He is currently a director of the International Data Group, Resources for the Future (Chairman-elect), and the National Bureau of Economic Research, a member of the National Climate Assessment's Development and Advisory Committee, and an Overseer of the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum. Schmalensee holds his SB and PhD in economics from MIT.